Obituary Timaru Herald July 1915.

An Old Identity.

The Late Mr Charles Loomes, who died suddenly at Fairlie on Tuesday at the age of 71, came to New Zealand in 1874 in the sailing ship Hereford. He entered the railway service two years later, and remained in it till about ten years ago, when he retired on pension. He married a daughter (Rose) of the one-time well-known veterans of the New Zealand Salvation Army, "Granny" and "Dad" Morgan. Mr Loomes leaves his widow and a large grown-up family of one daughter and ten sons, of whom one (William) is with the Fifth Re-enforcements, and two others (Robert and Harold) have been accepted for service. Six of the sons acted as their father's pall-bearers at the funeral in Fairlie yesterday, the Rev. H. O. Hanby conducting the service. Mr Loomes had been a martyr to rheumatism for many years, and his sudden death was due to heart trouble. He was highly respected as a sterling worker and citizen, and his venerable form will be missed about the township.
